A leading global university centred in Asia, the National University of Singapore (NUS) offers a global approach to education and research with a focus on Asian perspectives and expertise.

Ranked among the best universities in the world and highly-regarded in disciplines such as Engineering & Technology, Natural Sciences, Social Sciences and the Humanities, our transformative education seeks to open minds and nurture well-rounded individuals.

Our Halls of Residence and Residential Colleges located within the main Kent Ridge campus provide an affordable and safe living environment. Festive events and cultural activities are organised throughout the year by students and staff to add vibrancy to the exchange term. From Inter-Faculty sports games to music recitals, there is a wide array of artistic, cultural and sports opportunities to pursue.

We welcome students from our partner universities to join us for a semester or a year of academic exchange by applying for our most active global programme – the Student Exchange Programme (SEP).

WHY NUS?

NUS is 1st in Asia, 24th in the world
(based on Times Higher Education World University Ranking 2016/17)

All courses are conducted in English
(except Chinese Studies and foreign language courses)

7 faculties/schools across 2 campuses offer undergraduate modules for exchange students

Around 2,000 students from over 300 partner universities in more than 40 countries are on exchange at NUS per academic year

93% of incoming students were satisfied with their exchange at NUS

90% of incoming students would recommend NUS to their peers

(based on survey conducted in 2015/16)

“Singaporeans have a special place in my heart. Whether it was NUS students, professors, kopi-tek hawker centre uncles, migrant workers, bus drivers or artists – many have showered me with generosity and kindness without want for return. The friendships I have forged here are lasting ones. Academic life in Singapore was rigorous, and nothing balanced this better than having a web of support. I met dining hall aunties at college who offered to help me with laundry when I complained about having too much work. And, I had classmates who offered to personally deliver hawker centre food they knew I had missed because I had stayed in to meet an assignment deadline. People I have met have been extraordinary. I say with no exaggeration that they have made me a better person.”

Jenny Yeung, a New Colombo Plan Scholar from the University of New South Wales, Australia
COURSEWORK EXCHANGE

Requirements for Fee-Waiver Exchange

Full-time, degree-seeking students from NUS faculty-level and university-wide partner universities can apply for tuition fee-waiver for a single semester or a maximum of a full academic year exchange if they:

- Have obtained formal nomination from their home university
- Have completed at least two semesters at their home university upon admission to NUS
- Are not in their graduating year / semester while on exchange
- Have maintained at least an average “B” grade or better in their declared academic major
- Have obtained the necessary English proficiency level to follow the classes which are taught in English at NUS. (e.g. IELTS score of at least 6.5 for Law modules applicants)
- Have secured sufficient funds for accommodation fees and personal living expenses for the whole exchange duration
- Possessed the aptitude, motivation and maturity, to thrive in a different academic system and cultural environment

Did You Know?
The seven faculties and schools that offer modules for exchange are:
- Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences
- Faculty of Engineering
- Faculty of Science
- School of Computing
- School of Design & Environment
- NUS Business School*
- NUS Law*

*Modules offered by NUS Business School and NUS Law are limited to Business and Law students through formal invitation only.

Modular System

At NUS, the undergraduate and graduate curricula are based on a modular system. Under this system, workloads are expressed in terms of Modular Credits (MCs), and academic performance is measured by grade points on a 5-point scale.

A modular credit (MC) is a unit of effort, stated in terms of time, expected of a typical student in managing his/her workload. A 4-MC module would require 10 hours of work a week, including lectures, tutorials, laboratory sessions, assignments, and independent or group study. An exchange student can take a minimum of 12 MCs and a maximum of 20 MCs worth of modules per semester.

Did You Know?
NUS offers fee-paying programmes during the mid-year or year-end vacation. Students who are interested to join these programmes taught by NUS academics are welcome to search for the relevant information online. Some of these programmes are:
- FASStrack Asia: The Summer School
- NUS Enterprise Summer Programme
- NUS (Suzhou) Research Institute Summer/Winter Programme

Modules for Exchange Students

Exchange students should refer to the online module catalogue to identify suitable modules. Modules which are not listed in the catalogue are not available to exchange students. The online module catalogue will be updated in mid-March and in mid-August annually. The NUS Bulletin contains brief course descriptions and the workload components of individual modules.

Students are advised to read modules restrictions before applying for exchange to NUS. Business and Law modules are only available to Business and Law students who are invited by NUS during the official nomination period. Due to the popularity of some modules, students may not be able to secure their desired modules even though they are majoring in the respective disciplines. Level 4000 undergraduate modules have limited vacancies.

Exchange students pursuing a Master degree at their home university but have yet to obtain any Bachelor degree should apply as an undergraduate student and select from the range of undergraduate modules open to exchange students.

Master level students who have received a bachelor degree must submit bachelor level certificate/transcript in order to be considered (but not guaranteed) for level 5000 and above modules if supported by specific graduate exchange agreement.

Approval for modules will be given based on the fulfilment of pre-requisites, timetable and availability. All modules secured by exchange students are examinable by default. Students will need to get the approval from their home university before auditing any modules.

Unique Study Options

NUS offers a number of innovative study opportunities and multidisciplinary programmes many of which are open to exchange students.

- General Education Modules (GEMS), which emphasise intellectual broadening, critical and creative thinking, are usually without pre-requisites.
- Undergraduate Research Opportunities Programme (UROP) enables students to do credit-bearing research during the usual exchange term. Students have to source and secure their own supervisor from NUS upon approval from their home university and NUS International Relations Office.
ACCOMMODATION

ON-CAMPUS ACCOMMODATION

On-campus accommodation is popular among exchange students who want convenient access to classes, sporting and social events in NUS. Undergraduate students on coursework-based exchange are given priority for accommodation even though NUS cannot guarantee all exchange students on-campus accommodation. Research students should consider staying off campus.

Exchange students must indicate that they require on-campus accommodation on their initial exchange application in order to be invited for the accommodation application exercise when they receive the acceptance letter from NUS. NUS Registrar’s Office sends the acceptance email around mid-June to students who are coming in August and around mid-November to students who are arriving in January.

Upon acceptance of the on-campus accommodation offer, students will be required to make advance payment of their accommodation fees to secure the room. Check-in for on-campus accommodation is available on weekdays from 9am to 5pm.

“NUS offers a wide array of both academic and extracurricular activities. The high standards of teaching make it suitable for the serious students, and the rich on-campus life contributes to making the stay an experience. Furthermore, the geographic location allows for discovering Asia alongside one’s studies.”

Emil Blaabjerg Poulsen, Aarhus University, Denmark

“I enjoy the freedom provided by having a room on-campus (less travelling time) and the ability to interact with local students. Through the various events organised by Tembusu College, I developed close friendships with local students, which made my exchange a thousand times more enjoyable. I will really miss my friends once I’m back at my home university.”

Zsofia Ratak, King’s College London, UK

Did You Know?
Students who want to do research during or after their coursework-based exchange at NUS have to seek written approval from both home university and NUS International Relations Office. Thereafter, they need to source for and secure a NUS supervisor and submit all supporting documents at least 3 months before the start of the research attachment. The checklist of supporting document is given by NUS Registrar’s Office.
FINANCIAL MATTERS

Exchange students do not need to pay tuition fees to NUS if they are nominated through an existing exchange agreement. However, students should continue to pay tuition fees to their home university (if applicable) while on exchange at NUS. All exchange students are responsible for the compulsory miscellaneous fees and their own living expenses while on exchange.

HEALTH AND TRAVEL INSURANCE

All exchange students will be required to pay NUS’ health insurance premium which is included in the compulsory Miscellaneous Student Fees of approximately S$130 per semester. Coverage of the insurance plans can be found at www.nus.edu.sg/uhc/services/billing-insurance/insurance-matters.html.

Students are encouraged to purchase travel insurance to cover their personal travel outside of Singapore.

PART-TIME EMPLOYMENT

Exchange students who hold a Student’s Pass sponsored by NUS for coursework-based exchange are not allowed to work on-campus or off-campus without a valid Work Pass. This includes, but is not limited to, any form of external training attachment at any commercial venue, or an internal training attachment in any venue that serves the public.

Students on exchange who wish to do an internship or industrial attachment after the coursework-based exchange, will need to approach the hosting faculty/school/department at NUS or the hosting external company to support their application for (i) mainstream Work Pass; or (ii) Work Holiday Programme; or (iii) Training Employment Pass. A Work Pass is required even if the student is not receiving a salary or allowance from the employer. It is illegal for anyone to engage or use the service of international exchange students who do not have a valid Work Pass. Students will not be permitted to hold both the Student’s Pass and a Work Pass concurrently. More information is available at Ministry of Manpower’s website.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

STUDENT CLUBS, SOCIETIES AND SPORTS GROUPS

There are more than 100 student organisations, societies and interest groups for exchange students to participate in at NUS. Students may choose from a wide variety of options, from recreational sports, cultural activities to community engagement.

Did You Know?

NUS’ main campus situated at Kent Ridge, houses 14 of its 17 Faculties and Schools, many research institutes and a variety of different student residences. Seven out of the 17 Faculties and Schools at NUS offer undergraduate modules to incoming exchange students supported by existing bilateral exchange agreements. NUS Law is housed at the Bukit Timah campus.

PEER ADVISING PROGRAMME

The Peer Advising Programme is a student led programme spearheaded by NUS’ International Relations Office (IRO).

Students leaders selected by IRO will organise events throughout the academic year for exchange students. Events ranging from Welcome and Farewell Parties to Dragon Boat races, to Travel Clinics, are organised for students to interact.

All exchange students are encouraged to join our official Facebook and participate in the events organised by IRO’s Peer Advising Leaders (PALs).

www.facebook.com/NUSPeerAdvising

STUDENT SERVICES

Different offices provide the various services needed by exchange students before, during and after their exchange at NUS.

OFFICE OF STUDENT AFFAIRS

The Office of Student Affairs assists international students in their integration into the NUS community. Their services include:

- Managing on-campus accommodation application and allocation
- Arranging and conducting orientation briefings each semester
- Organising the Host Family Programme
- Providing i.CARE networking events and cross-cultural events
- Providing support through the Disability Support Office

FACULTIES & SCHOOLS

Seven participating faculties and schools for student exchange programme are responsible for:

- Identifying modules for exchange students
- Approving module applications based on pre-requisites, time-tabling and availability
- Providing curriculum
- Setting class and examination timetables
- Looking after the academic needs and welfare of students

UNIVERSITY HEALTH CENTRE

The University Health Centre (UHC) provides:

- Management of acute and chronic illnesses
- Vaccinations
- Health screenings and medical check-ups
- Counselling & Psychological Services
GETTING TO NUS CAMPUSES

TRAVELLING TO NUS

NUS campuses are conveniently linked to the rest of Singapore by Mass Rapid Transit (MRT) trains and public buses. A train ride from the MRT station located on the Kent Ridge campus will take you to Orchard in about 30 minutes. The MRT train ride from Changi Airport station to Kent Ridge station will take over an hour. The same trip by taxi will take at least half an hour, depending on traffic conditions.

Students taking Law modules can take a train ride to Botanic Gardens station and walk to the Bukit Timah campus through the Singapore Botanic Gardens, a UNESCO World Heritage site.

MOVING AROUND NUS CAMPUSES

NUS shuttle buses ply the main Kent Ridge campus, with one bus serving the Bukit Timah campus which houses NUS Law, the Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy and several other research institutes.

These distinctively blue and orange air-conditioned buses provide students with hassle-free transportation in and between both campuses.

IMMIGRATION INFORMATION

APPLYING FOR STUDENT’S PASS

- Exchange students need to secure at least 12 modular credits per semester to support their Student’s Pass application.
- The Registrar’s Office will send the acceptance letter via email together with the information on visa matters to successful applicants.
- The Registrar’s Office will request for the In-Principle Approval (IPA) letter from Immigration and Checkpoints Authority (ICA) of Singapore for all exchange students. Exchange students who do not require an entry visa to Singapore will receive their IPA letter during registration in NUS. Exchange students who require an entry visa will receive the IPA letter via email before coming to Singapore.
- Students have to fill in the online eForm 16, print and bring the hard copy document to Singapore.
- Full-year exchange students need to submit a medical report based on ICA’s requirements. Students can choose to have their medical check-up done at NUS’ University Health Centre (UHC) or in their country of residence.

CLEARING THE CUSTOMS

- Exchange students who do not require an entry visa to Singapore need to show their passport and disembarkation card at the Singapore Immigration counter.
- Exchange students who require an entry visa to Singapore need to show the IPA letter (which serves as a single-trip entry visa), passport and disembarkation card at the Singapore Immigration counter.

COLLECTION OF STUDENT’S PASS

- The Registrar’s Office will distribute the stamped IPA letter (to students who did not require an entry visa) during the stipulated registration date on campus. The registration date will be announced in the Registration Guide which will be attached to the acceptance email.
- During registration, immigration officers from ICA will be on-site in NUS to process the Student’s Pass. Students need to produce the stamped IPA letter to collect their Student’s Pass.

EXPLORING SINGAPORE AND THE REGION

- Singapore has four official languages, which are English, Mandarin, Malay and Tamil. English is the main language used in business, education and administration.
- Experience Singapore's melting pot of cultures by visiting the various ethnic enclaves, including Chinatown, Little India and Kampong Glam.
- A variety of cuisines from Peranakan to Chinese, Indian to Malay, fusion and more are available in this little food haven.
- An extensive, inexpensive and convenient public transport system connects you to all corners of the city state.
- Lush greenery provides up to 50% of natural shade in this garden city.
- Singapore is near the equator and you will experience year-long summer of 25 to 34 degrees Celsius.
- Strategically located at the heart of Southeast Asia with extensive air, sea and land connections to the rest of Asia.

Did You Know?
Dubbed the Garden City and fast becoming a City in a Garden, Singapore truly lives up to her expectation. Singapore Botanic Gardens is a 156 year-old tropical garden and it has been honoured as a UNESCO World Heritage site in 2015. The newly completed Gardens by the Bay houses over 500,000 plants in three bay-side gardens, two cooled conservatory domes, and a Supertree Grove that creates a vertical garden with tree-like structures towering 25 to 50 metres high.

“My exchange has exceeded my already high expectations on all fronts. I have loved the cultural and travel experiences, meeting and interacting with locals and other international students and learning in the style of another university.”

Haraman Johal, University of Oxford, UK

“I have absolutely loved living and studying here. Students, faculty, and Singaporeans in general are so welcoming, open-minded and kind. Everything is different here, compared to America, which was fantastic. Learning about the blend of cultures was my favourite part.”

Sally Gerster, University of Colorado Boulder, USA

“I had a pleasant time studying at NUS. It has a very safe and dependable environment. University Town (UTown) is very clean and well-maintained, and the professors are all very capable and knowledgeable in the material they teach. Thank you for the experience!”
