PROGRAMME DETAILS

Academic Content

The University Programme offers two academic tracks in social sciences and French language. Both tracks are available during each session of the Summer School. In addition to their core social sciences or French courses, students may choose to expand their curriculum by adding an elective course for an additional cost.

The complete 2018 social sciences course list should be announced by late November or early December 2017, with course overviews available by late December.

The language of instruction for each course is specified on their website.

Eligibility Requirements

NUS’ generic eligibility requirements apply, please see GRO website for details.

Sciences Po requires to participants to meet the following language requirements:
- French language track
  The French language track welcomes students at every level of French language learning, from complete beginners (Level A1) to the advanced (Level C2). Students who wish to enter Level A1 do not need to provide proof of their French level. All other students will need to provide proof of their level of French at the level below the level they wish to obtain.
For example, if you wish to take Level B2, you must demonstrate a Level B1 in French.

Candidates who think that their French level may change between the time of application and the Summer School should take a language assessment based on their current French level. They will then have the opportunity to retake a language assessment immediately prior to beginning classes and will be moved up or down a level according to results.

Candidates applying to Levels A1 to B2 (beginner and intermediate) also must provide proof of at least a Level B2 in English. Candidates for Levels C1 and C2 only need to provide proof of their level of French.

- Social sciences track
  In the social sciences track, students are required to demonstrate at least high-intermediate (Level B2) proficiency in the language of instruction (English or French, depending on the course).

As English is the language of instruction at NUS, NUS students may use the university transcript as proof of English for a social sciences class or the French language track levels A1-B2. If students wish to take French-taught classes in social sciences track or the level A2-C2 classes of the French language track, they will need to provide proof of their French level. Free French language placement tests will be available on the Summer School website that candidates can upload with their application.

Language Level Verification
Candidates are required to demonstrate their language level in one of three ways:

Option 1: provide an official language certification taken within the last three years.

For an English Level B2, the following tests and minimum requirements are accepted:

- TOEFL (IBT): 77
- IELTS: 6, no subscore under 5.5
- TOEIC "listening and reading": 785/990 and "speaking and writing" (IBT or Mobile): 310/400
- Cambridge English First (FCE)
- Cambridge Certificate in Advanced English (CAE)
- Cambridge Certificate of Proficiency in English (CPE)

For French, the following tests are accepted:

- DELF
- DALF
- TCF

Option 2: provide proof of at least two years of study entirely taught in either

| 9 | ADDITIONAL INFORMATION | Student has to check with the respective embassy for visa matters pertaining to the passport they are holding.

Generally, Singaporean citizens do not require a visa for a stay of less than 90 days in France. NUS students from other countries should confirm the visa requirements for their home country by checking on the requirement from the French Embassy/Consulate website.

If visa is required for a student, a short-stay tourist visa (for less than 90 days) should be applied. Per Sciences Po’s advice, it is not necessary to apply for a student visa for participating in this summer programme.

Yet students are always recommended to contact the French Embassy/Consulate in Singapore/home country if they have specific visa questions and are required to keep themselves updated for the latest immigration policies via the website of the Embassy/Consulate and the information from the host university. |
| 10 | Travel Advisories | Visit the MFA website for travel advisories on various countries from the Singapore government. |
| 11 | Student Insurance | Sciences Po strongly recommends students to have adequate health and medical insurance to cover their medical expenses during their stay in France. Please note that insurance coverage for official NUS trips is provided for your participation in this programme. However, you are advised to read through and understand its policy (coverage) and to review whether the terms and conditions as well as the duration of coverage are sufficient to suit your needs and to cover your entire journey abroad. If necessary, you may consider topping up for international coverage of your own health insurance or taking out a suitable travel insurance for yourself.

If a proof of insurance (Insurance Cover for Official NUS Trips) is required at anytime, you may contact the NUS insurance provider directly for necessary Certificate of Insurance after you are accepted into the programme. |
