

LEARNING THE WORLD

CONNECTING THE POSSIBILITIES

The International Relations Office (IRO) works with more than 300 partner universities in 50 countries around the world to send you on exciting international programmes. Our wide-ranging spectrum of international summer programmes (i-SP), internships (i-Intern), research attachments (i-RAP) and university network programmes provide stimulating opportunities to gain the skills required to be a future-ready graduate. Innovative programmes such as our Study Trips for Engagement and EnRichment (STEER), take students to emerging markets such as Latin America and the Middle East to explore, together with a faculty member, issues and themes associated with a particular region. During your undergraduate years, these programmes will hopefully provide the opportunity for you to experience student life in a foreign country, pick up a new language, experience different cultures, overcome novel challenges, make new friends and ultimately become global citizens! Peruse these pages to find out where you can go, what you can do, and how you can make informed choices regarding your study abroad options!

STUDENT EXCHANGE PROGRAMME (SEP)

ABOUT

SEP is an opportunity for students to spend one or two semesters studying at a partner university; earning credits towards their NUS degree, while continuing to pay NUS tuition fees. SEP is a chance for students to experience a different academic culture, live in a foreign country and possibly learn a new language! Students can choose from more than 300 partner universities in 50 countries, either under a University-wide (across participating Faculties) or a Faculty-level (specific to a particular School or Faculty) Exchange arrangement.

NUS outbound TF LEaRN scholar

// I really appreciate Temasek Foundation for giving me this opportunity to take part in the TF LEaRN programme. I have learned a lot from this out-of-classroom experience. After doing volunteer work in Shanghai, I realised how satisfying it is to think for and to help others, and hope to be more involved back in Singapore. I will definitely recommend this programme to my peers at NUS. //

SINO-SINGAPORE UNDERGRADUATE EXCHANGE (SSUE) PROGRAMME

The Sino-Singapore Undergraduate Exchange (SSUE) Programme is a prestigious programme spearheaded by the respective Ministries of Education (MOE) of Singapore and China. It is the only G-G (Government to Government) Tertiary Exchange Programme between Singapore and China. The programme was initiated in 2002 by Singapore's then Prime Minister Mr Goh Chok Tong to provide an avenue for cross cultural exchange between local university students and selected Chinese universities. The programme aims to instil Singaporean students with a global perspective and an enhanced understanding of China and its potential. It also exposes students from China to various aspects of Singaporean life, education and culture. The programme consists of two legs – the first in China (May), followed by Singapore (July).

/// The SSUE programme has benefitted me in various platforms. It was my personal decision to befriend the people we met on this trip, scale relational hardships and brave novel food and adventures - that made the trip really meaningful to me. If you enjoy actively forging new friendships and have any interest in China, this programme will give you all the opportunities that you can ever wish for. ///

/// I took a lot of writing classes at Yale expecting to write Western stories like everyone else, but ended up talking about Singapore at every chance I got. My professors and classmates enjoyed my sharing and I'm glad that I was able to show them new ways of seeing the world just as they widened my own horizons. ///

ELIGIBILITY & APPLICATION PROCESS

- The programme is open to students from selected faculties who are currently in the second year of study (will go to Yale in the third year). FINANCING YOUR INTERNATIONAL PROGRAMMES

FINANCIAL AID

FINANCING YOUR SEP

SEP is a great opportunity for students to experience studying in an overseas university without worrying about additional tuition fees of overseas partner institutions. During SEP, students continue to pay NUS tuition fees, but apart from this, students must ensure that they have the financial means for other expenses like airfare and living costs during their SEP abroad. Students should consider the affordability of various SEP destinations when planning their exchange semester(s), as the cost of living varies from cities to cities.

To help students alleviate the financial burden of participating in SEP, a number of financial assistance schemes are available for students to apply.
