

SINGAPORE

NUS, University of Malaya hold golf tournament to boost ties

POSTED: 29 Apr 2015 23:48

About 140 golfers are participating in this year's competition, with the final round to be played at Orchid Country Club on Thursday (Apr 30).

PHOTOS

(AFP/Sam Greenwood)

CAPTION

SINGAPORE: The National University of Singapore and the University of Malaya share a long history of close ties. This relationship was reflected in the annual UM-NUS Inter-University Tunku Chancellor Golf Tournament 2015 between faculty members and alumni of both universities, organisers said.

Now into its 48th edition, the tournament teed off at Sentosa Golf Club on Wednesday (Apr 29). An official dinner was later held at the Istana in the evening, hosted by President Tony Tan Keng Yam.

In attendance were NUS president Tan Chorh Chuan and University of Malaya Chancellor, Sultan Nazrin Muizzuddin Shah.

About 140 golfers are participating in this year's competition, with the final round to be played at Orchid Country Club on Thursday.

- CNA/xk