

SOVEREIGN WOMEN IN A MUSLIM KINGDOM

By Sher Banu A.L.
Khan

NUS Press/
Paperback/
336 pages/
$40.66/ Books
Kinokuniya,

Wardah Books, Select Books

Khan, an assistant professor at the National University of Singapore's Malay Studies department, explores in detail the sultanahs who ruled the kingdom of Aceh for half of the 17th century, demonstrating how female rule was legitimised by Islam and indigenous adat laws.