

About Mr Wong Ah Long

Mr Wong Ah Long graduated from the University of Singapore with an Honours degree in Applied Chemistry in 1969, followed by a Master's degree in Business Administration in 1972.

Mr Wong was the Chief Executive Officer for a township development in Surabaya from 1974 to 1981. Thereafter, he was engaged in partnership in the construction and development business in Singapore and Indonesia till 1987. Between 1988 and 1991, he was the General Manager of the construction arm of Singapore Technologies, before serving as the General Manager of DBS Land up to 1996.

In 1996, he joined Suntec City Development Pte Ltd, Singapore's largest private development as its Chief Executive Officer and successfully transformed Suntec City into the premier business and retail shopping centre in Singapore. Under his astute leadership, Suntec City won several international awards, including the FIABCI Prix d' Excellence in 1999 for the most successful project in the office and retail sector.

In 2005, he was the Chairman of Pacific Star China Pte Ltd, a member of an international group specialising in large-scale real estate investments in Asia, overseeing and directing development and investment opportunities in the region, particularly China.

In 2009, he became the Chairman of Lucrum Capital, a private equity fund focusing on property in Singapore. He was also the Group CEO of Utraco Pte Ltd, a group which is involved in several industries including construction, logistics, hotel property development and water management.

Despite his hectic schedule, Mr Wong devoted a lot of time and energy to actively supporting NUS in its education and alumni initiatives. He served as the Deputy Chairman of the NUS Council and the Institute of South East Asian Studies Board of Trustees. He also served as the Vice-President of the NUS Business School Alumni Association and MBA Alumni – NUS. He was a member of the Advisory Board of the NUS Business School, the International Resource Panel of the Business Alumni Association and the National University of Singapore Society (NUSS) Advisory Panel. In addition, he also chaired fund raising committees such as the Kiang Ai Kim Scholarship Fund for the Department of Chemistry.

Notwithstanding, his service to the public and business community at large should also be highlighted. He was a member of the Hong Kong-Singapore Business Association and president of Singapore Chapter of FIABCI. In addition, he undertook the role as the treasurer of the Garden City Fund management committee and member of the National Council of Drug Abuse. He was a member of the Board of Directors at Ren Ci Hospital and Medicare Centre.
