4.3 Goals and objectives

The Conservatory’s goals for the Master of Music degree are threefold:

1. to promote higher level music study in the individual’s major study area (i.e. instrumental, conducting, composition);
2. to develop both instrument-specific and group pedagogical capacities relevant to both the Singaporean and international music education communities;
3. to develop ancillary professional studies to complement the performance and pedagogical studies needed for success in the music industry.