3.2.1 Admission Requirements

The Yong Siew Toh Conservatory welcomes applications from musically gifted students who aspire to be professional musicians. Consequently a successful audition or composition portfolio is the primary consideration for admission. Applicants should be comfortable performing the audition repertoire to a high technical and expressive standard. Students’ academic records will also be taken into consideration as part of the admission process.

Transfer students should refer to the University’s Office of Admissions for more details:
http://www.nus.edu.sg/oam/