

Honorary degrees for Tony Tan, ex-WHO chief Margaret Chan

President Halimah Yacob, who is chancellor of the National University of Singapore, presented honorary degrees to former president Tony Tan Keng Yam and World Health Organisation emeritus director-general Margaret Chan on Thursday at the university's graduation ceremony at the University Cultural Centre. Dr Tan was conferred the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws, while Dr Chan, who is also founding dean of the Vanke School of Public Health at China's Tsinghua University, was awarded the honorary degree of Doctor of Science. ST PHOTO: GAVIN FOO