

NUS and NTU top Asian universities in subject rankings again

The National University of Singapore (NUS) and Nanyang Technological University (NTU) have again emerged as the top universities in Asia based on global rankings by subjects.

The 2024 Quacquarelli Symonds World University Rankings by Subject had 408 Asian universities among over 1,500 institutions worldwide.

NUS and NTU ranked higher than Chinese, Japanese and Hong Kong universities in terms of the number of top 10 programmes and have done so since at least 2021.
