Choice of Study (NUS College)

NUS College

NUS College (NUSC) is the Honours College of NUS. The College offers an enriched curriculum for undergraduates who wish to challenge themselves, both academically and beyond academics, while pursuing their degree in NUS. NUSC students will earn degrees conferred by their NUS degree programmes along with a certificate from NUSC.

Rigorous Interdisciplinary Curriculum

NUSC takes pride in advancing the frontiers of undergraduate education. NUSC courses are conducted in small groups of 20-25 students from different disciplines, with a special emphasis on critical thinking, global orientation, and impactful change-making in communities. NUSC courses replace most of the common curriculum courses required by the student's primary degree; the College also offers a large number of interdisciplinary electives and a team-based capstone project (Impact Experience; IEx).

Global Pathways

NUSC students are required to complete a Global Pathways requirement. Options include the NUSC flagship Global Experience courses, regional IEx projects, student exchange programmes, the NUSC summer international internship programme, and more.

Community

The NUSC community is an integral part of the learning and living environment for our students. All NUSC students are required to stay in the NUSC residential wings for two years, including the first year. The College also has a dedicated Growth Mentoring programme.

Admissions Information

NUSC is open to undergraduates from more than 60 majors across NUS. NUSC applicants will be assessed by NUSC for admissions into NUSC and the top-ranked choice of major that is compatible with NUSC. NUSC students can transfer between most majors after the first semester of enrolment, and within the first four semesters, with academic advice from NUSC. NUSC applicants are also considered concurrently by the respective degree-bearing faculties based on the selected choice of programmes, in the same way as other NUS applicants.

Visit nuscollege.nus.edu.sg to learn more about NUSC, and for information on financial aid and scholarships.

To be considered for NUS College, you will be required to answer additional questions for the holistic admissions review by NUS College.

Do you wish to be considered for NUS College?*   ○ Yes   ○ No

Choice of Study (NUS College Application)

Applicants who have indicated they wish to be considered for NUS College in Choice of Study are required to complete all fields in this section.

Applicants who did not indicate that they wish to be considered for NUS College in Choice of Study would not be shown this section.

NUS College Application

Thank you for applying to NUS College. In this NUS College-specific section, we would like you to:

- Share your sense of how NUS College fits into your plans for NUS (~100 words).
- Reflect on your non-academic activities (~350 words).

All sections are mandatory.

Once the online application form is submitted and an Application Number is issued, responses to the NUS College written prompts cannot be changed. Therefore, please ensure your responses are final before clicking the "Submit" button at the end of the application form.

I. How NUS College Fits Into Your Plans for NUS

What features of the NUS College curriculum excite you, and how do these features align with your learning goals or values? (100-word response)

[text box]

Word Count: 0 / 100

II. Reflection on Non-Academic Activities

Reflect on your non-academic activities, in about 350 words.

You may have undertaken non-academic activities as part of a co-curriculum, or in a more informal way (e.g., as a hobby). Reflect on them: explain to us a larger or deeper meaning behind these activities, or behind your participation in them.

We say "activities" (plural) because we would like you to connect some or all of the things you did outside the classroom, or even to detect a pattern in them. And when we say "larger or deeper meaning," we mean that we would like you to think about and explain something that may not be readily apparent about your activities. You should do so in a specific and carefully-reasoned way: for example, rather than just state generalities about how you volunteer because you want to help people, consider explaining what particular lessons you learnt about helping others, and/or how you learnt these lessons.

The subject of your reflection can be your actual non-academic activities. Or, you can choose to explain and reflect on:

- Your motivations (e.g., What was the rationale or principle behind what you chose to be involved, or not involved, with?);
- Your time management and decision-making (e.g., If you spent more time on some activities and interests than others, how did you make choices about what you prioritized?); or
- What your activities reveal about you (e.g., Did you participate in a wide-ranging number of activities, or do your activities revolve around one or a few main interests and themes? Were your interests steady and consistent, or did they change and evolve over the years?).

What you should not do in this section is simply list your non-academic activities or achievements. Near the end of this application process, you will be able to upload your Co-Curricular Activity Records, and/or documentation of your non-academic pursuits. (If you are unable to provide any documentation, you can explain why here—but you must still reflect on your non-academic activities in this section.) These uploads will already paint a picture of what non-academic activities you have undertaken. In this reflection, we want to hear more about the whys and hows.

(OPTIONAL) Finally, you can provide any needed contextualisation, if relevant. Sometimes, records make more sense if we understand their contexts and even constraints. For example, perhaps your school did not offer a co-curriculum, or limited students to a fixed number of co-curricular activities. Maybe you created your own extra-curricular opportunities that you would like us to know about. Perhaps you had to forgo some overseas experiences because of health concerns or family commitments. Perhaps you would have loved to be involved in some activities but did not have the opportunity to do so. You may also include this information in your reflection.

[text box]

Word Count: 0 / 350

III. Declaration

You should have crafted your responses on your own. In the textbox below, please declare this by typing out this statement: "I affirm that my responses represent my own thinking."

You should not use generative AI tools (e.g. ChatGPT, Claude, Gemini, etc.). Doing so is a breach of academic integrity. More damagingly for you, its use will produce generic reflections that do not represent who you are, and do not portray the kinds of distinctive individuals that we seek to admit. If you do use such tools, you must describe in the textbox what your queries were. If you use sources such as books or websites, you should include citations of these sources. Likewise, if you received help from a mentor, please declare and describe the help as well. But there is no need to declare your use of spelling or grammar checkers.

[text box]
