All residents were greeted with free gifts of relaxation like neck pillows and eye masks and comforted with delicious food including Aglio-olio pasta, potato wedges and topped off with lovely chocolate eclairs. Numerous games were organised like Mario Kart, Archery and Bowling to help liven the environment and remind the stressed students of the joys of the university life.

To top it all off, the PH Coffee IG provided the residents with freshly prepared coffee to help calm the nerves but up the energy! If you missed this event, stress not, many more events await you in the next semester!

For the first time in many years, Singapore would be able to witness the Sun reducing to a Ring of Fire in the sky. Dozen telescopes will be set up in Science Centre's Ecogarden to share the magnificent view of the Sun with everyone.
